

Executive Compensation and Corporate Governance Solutions

FTI Consulting's Executive Compensation and Corporate Governance experts provide objective and independent advice and guidance to ensure that a company's compensation program is competitive, balanced and well-aligned with its business model and strategy. We believe that designing effective and appropriate executive and board compensation programs cannot be addressed in a transactional manner, but instead requires a proactive, relationship-driven approach that includes reviewing and understanding an organization's culture, strategy and compensation philosophy, interviewing and developing relationships with the organization's Board and management team and fostering a year-round relationship with clients.
